European Citizenship and European Professionalism in Goldau (CH) from 7th to 12 of October 2012. Online application now available.

European teacher Professionalism (schoolconcepts)

“Teacher education is multidisciplinary. This ensures that teachers have extensive subject knowledge, a good knowledge of pedagogy, the skills and competences required to guide and support learners, and an understanding of the social and cultural dimension of education.” (Source: Common European Principles for Teacher Competences and Qualifications, (DG Education and Culture), 2005)

This course focuses on the teacher as a professional. To become a professional European teacher one must be willing to cross borders, to develop an understanding about the way education is structured and organized in other places, and to consider alternative views and concepts for effective teaching and learning.

European teacher Citizenship

“It is considered that European Citizenship is a constant interchange between personal development and society reached by the awareness, responsibility and participation in the economic, environmental and social life of the community.” (An Intercultural Approach for an European Active Citizenship –Grundvig2- Report (DG Education and Culture), 2005)

This course aims to promote and explore the potential of European Citizenship for active democratic change in society through education. It supports the professional development of teachers by extending their critical understanding of European Citizenship; its concepts, relevance and implications for education. Also it facilitates the active use of programmes and structures in support of education for European Citizens.
